Professional, cost-effective outplacement

No business likes to let people go, but when this difficult decision needs to be made it's important to handle it well, protecting the individuals involved.

An effective outplacement programme eases an employee's transition to the next step in their career, keeping your professional relationship with them positive. This extra care bolsters your company's reputation for valuing staff, which boosts employee morale and strengthens your ability to attract and retain the best candidates.

At CareerWorx, we provide tailored, one-to-one support aimed at helping employees into new roles that align with their goals. We've found our approach to be the most effective way to meet individual needs and it has led to consistently high outcome rates and positive feedback.

Our outplacement service is provided by qualified, experienced and registered career coaches in modern offices in London, via Skype or telephone.

Benefits of CareerWorx outplacement:
